Dear HR Manager,

I am seeking a marketing learnership and heard about for your company from your ad in "Marketing Times". I am currently a junior at University of "City", pursuing a degree in Marketing channels. I'm very interested in joining your team and using my social networking and direct marketing knowledge in a cutting-edge company like "Name of the company".

As the Vice-President of Membership for the campus marketing club, I have contributed to attracting 30% more members using Facebook and Twitter to reach out to students across our campus. For my project in Marketing Research, I analyzed the marketing campaigns of several of the employers who recruit on our campus to see which methods were most effective for increasing student turnout at their events. Based on these experiences, I have developed a strong understanding of how to connect with the college age community which I am sure would be helpful to your clients. I am looking for an opportunity to develop these skills further and learn more about the marketing business by joining "Name of company" as a summer intern. I will be able to start work in June.

I have included my CV and look forward to talking to you in more detail about how I might contribute to your team. I will contact you within two weeks to set up an interview at your convenience.

book functions on a simple principle of layering a simple message known as your core message through your application documents. The core message has to be articulated and described through three different documents each of which has their unique function and serves its own purpose: the CV lists facts and achievements; the Statement of Purpose (SOP) describes your motivation behind those achievements; and your recommender validates your achievements and possibly outlines your career progression. The book will outline various examples of aligning one candidate's CV, cover letter, and letters of recommendation through a career trajectory capturing career transitions: Scholarships, Fellowships, and UN Consultancy positions. Each stage is built on the earlier stage and it really helps to look back and to craft a different narrative best suited for your needs at any given time. It's your story, do justice to it. Stage 1: Get that Public Policy scholarship that you have had your eye on for a while. Extensive research is vital to articulating your core message to impress the admissions committee. Triangulate the message artfully through your CV, SOP, and LoR. Stage 2: The Law and Policy fellowship is an example of one of the most coveted fellowships which early career aspirants can aspire to. Development consultancies like the Overseas Development Institute and Oxford Policy Management routinely seek to place early career lawyers and economists as civil servants in Sub-Saharan country governments. Stage 3: UN Consultancy positions and early career consulting positions in development also require analytically well-presented information through the CV and Cover letters for entry level positions. The Core Message Rule of 3: Applying for Scholarships, Strategy for Scholarship Applications, Strategy for CV writing, Strategy for CV Describing your first job and evolving responsibilities, CV Building and CV Evolution Examples, Cover Letters for Scholarships, Cover Letter 1, Cover Letter 2, Cover Letter 3, Wins the Emile Boutmy Merit Based Scholarship, Letters of Recommendation for Scholarships, Recommendation Sample Letter of Recommendation 1, AB Cover Letter for Fellowships, Example of a Cover Letter, UN Consultancies, Strategy, Principles Applying for Jobs in Development Consultancy Firms, UN Consultancies, Cover Letter, Cover Letter 2, Bonus Writing to Journals, Writing for Journals, Internships, Jobs, Cover Letters, Bonus Blurbs, Blurbs, Bonus Freelance Jobs, Why Freelancing, Conclusion, Obliterate any limiting beliefs.
