Primary Malay Exam Paper:

Interfaith Education for All Duncan R. Wielzen, Ina Ter Avest, 2017-10-10 Living together in the midst of diversity is an issue of pivotal importance all over the world in particular for people involved in the education of the younger generation. The search intended in this publication is to find the means to go beyond mere tolerance of differences. Education as envisioned in this book engages learners in active citizenship and enables pupils and students young people to transform their social environment. Learning about the other and to a certain extent appreciating the other's perspective together with acquiring dialogical skills are key elements for learning to live together with people from different cultural backgrounds and with diverse religious and secular worldviews. Hence faith development, dialogicality and citizenship are central themes in this publication. This book brings together the latest insights and best practices available in the fields of religious education from around the world which are reflected upon by distinguished scholars in the field. The input provided by the three parts of this book will give every educator further food for thought be it in the classroom at home or in leisure activities. The diversity approach of this book is mirrored in the composition of the team of editors. Duncan Wielzen is a theologian with research interest in religious education in plural societies. Ina Ter Avest is a psychologist with a focus on the intersectionality of psychology, culture and religion. The focus of both editors is on interfaith education, its implication and further development.
