

Diary Entry Sample

Question: You dislike the behaviour of some of your friends. Write a diary entry about your feelings in about 120 words.

Monday, 4th January 20__

9:00 p.m.

Dear Diary,

Today I feel quite sad! Rohit annoyed me greatly today by pushing me in the playground for no reason. I fell down and might have got a fracture. But luckily, I got no injury. Rohit is becoming aggressive day by day. Then there is Sohan. He is always abusive. He does not even spare his teachers. He calls them names, of course, in their absence. I feel very bad about it, but am helpless. I do not like Satinder also. He is very mischievous. I think Raman is the best of all my friends. He is well-behaved and cultured. I cherish his company. I feel I should avoid ill-mannered friends. They might land me in trouble one day.

McAndrews,2020-06-25 Packed with useful tools this practitioner guide and course text helps educators assess and teach essential literacy skills and strategies at all grade levels PreK 12 All six literacy modalities are addressed listening speaking reading writing viewing and visually representing Chapters on specific literacy processes integrate foundational knowledge assessments and strategies for students who need support in literacy including English language learners Presented are dozens of authentic assessments along with differentiation ideas In a large size format for easy photocopying the book features more than 70 reproducible assessment forms and resources Purchasers get access to a webpage where they can download and print the reproducible materials The Middle-Class City John Henry Hepp, IV,2018-06-29 The classic historical interpretation of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries in America sees this period as a political search for order by the middle class culminating in Progressive Era reforms In The Middle Class City John Hepp examines transformations in everyday middle class life in Philadelphia between 1876 and 1926 to discover the cultural roots of this search for order By looking at complex relationships among members of that city s middle class and three largely bourgeois commercial institutions newspapers department stores and railroads Hepp finds that the men and women of the middle class consistently reordered their world along rational lines According to Hepp this period was rife with evidence of creative reorganization that served to mold middle class life The department store was more than just an expanded dry goods emporium it was a middle class haven of order in the heart of a frenetic city an entirely new way of organizing merchandise for sale Redesigned newspapers brought well ordered news and entertainment to middle class homes and also carried retail advertisements to entice consumers downtown via train and streetcar The complex interiors of urban railroad stations reflected a rationalization of space and rail schedules embodied the modernized specialization of standard time In his fascinating investigation of similar patterns of behavior among commercial institutions Hepp exposes an important intersection between the histories of the city and the middle class In his careful reconstruction of this now vanished culture

Hepp examines a wide variety of sources including diaries and memoirs left by middle class women and men of the region. Following Philadelphians as they rode trains and trolleys read newspapers and shopped at department stores he uses their accounts as individualized guidebooks to middle class life in the metropolis. And through a creative use of photographs, floor plans, maps and material culture The Middle Class City helps to reconstruct the physical settings of these enterprises and recreate everyday middle class life shedding new light on an underanalyzed historical group and the cultural history of twentieth century America.
