Dividends:

Dividends received by individuals from South African companies are generally exempt from income tax, but dividends tax, at a rate of 20%, is withheld by the entities paying the dividends to the individuals. Dividends received by South African resident individuals from PSLs, listed and regulated pension/reinsuring companies are subject to income tax, and dividends in respect of those dividends are only subject to dividends tax.

Foreign Dividends:

Most foreign dividends received by individuals from foreign companies (including of less than 10% in the foreign company) are taxable at a maximum effective rate of 20%. No dividends are allowed for expenditure to produce foreign dividends.

Interest Exemptions:

Interest from a South African source, earned by any natural person under 65 years of age or an estate of a deceased person, up to R23 400 per annum, and persons who are 65 years and older, up to R34 500 per annum, is exempt from income tax.

Interest earned by non-residents, who are physically present in South Africa for at least 180 days during the 12-month period before the interest occurs, if the interest-bearing debt is most effectively connected to a permanent establishment (such as a fixed place of business) in South Africa, is exempt from income tax.

Dependents:

Retirement Fund Contributions:

Amounts contributed to pensions, provident and retirement annuity funds during a year of assessment and deducted by the person of whose credit, amounts contributed by dependents and their dependents are treated as contributions by the individual, and are not deducted by the person of whose credit. For example, if you have (RAHVA) dependents, your taxable income (both qualifying retirement, PSLs, pension and retirement funds) is less. The deduction is limited to 27.5% of the greater of the amount of contributions for Pensions (RAHVA), contributions to pension, provident and retirement annuity funds. The deduction is further limited to the lower of R350 000 or 27.5% of taxable income, before the inclusion of a taxable capital gain. Any contributions exceeding the limitations are carried forward to the immediately following year of assessment and are deemed to be contributed in that following year. The amounts carried forward are reduced by contributions set off against retirement fund lump sums and retirement annuities.

Medical and Disability Expenses:

In determining tax payable, individuals are allowed to deduct a rebate based on:

- Medical contributions to medical schemes by the individual who paid the contributions up to R364 for each of the first two persons covered by those medical schemes, and R244 for each additional dependent. This rebate is referred to as a medical scheme fees tax credit; and

In this case off:

- An individual who is 65 years and older, or if an individual, his or her spouse, or his or her child is a person with a disability, 33.3% of the sum of qualifying medical expenses paid and borne by the individual, and an amount by which medical scheme contributions paid by the individual exceed three times the medical scheme fees tax credits for the tax year, limited to the amount that exceeds 7.5% of taxable income (excluding retirement fund lump sums and severance benefits).
- Any other individual, 25% of an amount equal to the sum of the qualifying medical expenses paid and borne by the individual, and an amount by which medical scheme contributions paid by the individual exceed four times the medical scheme fees tax credits for the tax year, limited to the amount that exceeds 7.5% of taxable income (excluding retirement fund lump sums and severance benefits).

This rebate is referred to as an additional medical expenses tax credit.

Donations:

Donations in respect of donations to certain public benefit organisations are limited to 30% of taxable income (excluding retirement fund lump sums and severance benefits). The amount of donations exceeding 30% of the taxable income is treated as a donation to qualifying public benefit organisations in the following tax year.

Allowances:

Subsistence Allowances and Advances:

Where the recipient is obliged to spend at least one night away from his or her usual place of residence on business, and the accommodation to which that allowance or advance relates is in the Republic of South Africa, and the allowance or advance is granted to pay for:

- Meals and incidental costs, an amount of R244 is deemed to have been expended per day; or
- Incidental costs only, an amount of R169 is deemed to have been expended per day.

Where the accommodation to which that allowance or advance relates is outside the Republic of South Africa, a specific amount per country to determine have been expended. Details of these amounts are published on the SARS website (www.sars.gov.za), under Legal Council/Secondary Legislation/Income Tax Notices.

Where the recipient is, by reason of the duties of his or her office or employment, obliged to spend a part of a day away from his or her usual place of work or employment, a reimbursement for advance for expenditure actually incurred by the recipient is exempt if the recipient is allowed by his or her principal to incur expenditure on meals and other incidental costs for that part of the day, and the amount of that reimbursement does not exceed R169.

Travelling Allowance:

Business, per allowance, which may be used in determining the allowable deduction for business travel against an allowance or advance where actual costs are not claimed, pre-determined using the table published on the SARS website (www.sars.gov.za), under Legal Council/Secondary Legislation/Income Tax Notices.

Notes:

- Eighty per cent of the travelling allowance must be included in the employee's remuneration for the purpose of calculating PAYE. This percentage is reduced to 20% if the employee is satisfied that less than 100% of the use of the motor vehicle for the tax year will be for business purposes.
- No fuel cost may be claimed if the employee has not borne the full cost of fuel used in the vehicle, and no maintenance cost may be claimed if the employee has not borne the full cost of maintaining that vehicle (e.g. if the vehicle is covered by a maintenance plan).
- The fuel cost must be reduced on a pro-rata basis if the vehicle is used for business purposes for less than a full year.
- The actual distance travelled during a tax year, and the distance travelled for business purposes, substantiated by a logbook, are used to determine the costs that may be claimed against a travelling allowance.

Alternatively:

Where an allowance or advance is based on the actual distance travelled by the employee for business purposes, no tax is payable on an allowance paid by an employer to an employee, up to the rate published on the SARS website (www.sars.gov.za), under Legal Council/Secondary Legislation/Income Tax Notices, regardless of the value of that vehicle.

However, this alternative is not available if other compensation in the form of an allowance or reimbursement (other than for parking or fuel) is received from the employer in respect of the vehicle.
