representational and post representational political sensibilities. Representational politics centres on representing the interests of disenfranchised people to the state and public and operates primarily within the regime of immigration law. Post representational politics focuses on working collaboratively with those in detention to resist and challenge the deportation system. Since representational politics is the predominant political imaginary of migrant rights campaigning the book focuses on illustrating and evaluating the role of post representational politics. The book argues that the concept of post representational politics is important for understanding and participating in radical opposition to state racism. This argument rests on the expanded possibilities it motivates of engaging with and resisting institutions that are poised to co-opt resistance. The attention it fosters to the situated power dynamics of political activities that collaborate with imprisoned people and its sensitivity to the politically and conceptually generative capacities of everyday embodied practices of resistance. To make this argument this book employs innovative methodology to illuminate and engage with the practice based thinking of activist movements about the concepts of solidarity, hospitality, witnessing and accountability. This book will be of interest to scholars and activists with interests in socio-legal studies of immigration and refugee law as well as others in social movement studies, critical legal studies, border criminology and critical theory.

The analysis of urban development of the past twenty years presented in this maiden edition of the World Cities Report shows with compelling evidence that there are new forms of collaboration and cooperation planning, governance, finance and learning that can sustain positive change. The Report unequivocally demonstrates that the current urbanization model is unsustainable in many respects. It conveys a clear message that the pattern of urbanization needs to change in order to better respond to the challenges of our time to address issues such as inequality, climate change, informality, insecurity and the unsustainable forms of urban expansion.
