

Unicellular (Single-Celled) Protists – Eukaryotic Protozoan

Euglena

Euglena usually live in freshwater ponds. These organisms are heterotrophic (must consume food) and autotrophic (can make its own food). When light is not available to photosynthesize, the Euglena will absorb nutrients across their cell membrane hence the term heterotrophic.

Chloroplasts within the euglena trap sunlight required for photosynthesis and can be seen as several rod-like structures though out the cell. Because the Euglena can undergo photosynthesis, they detect light via eyespot and move toward it; a process known as phototaxis. When an organism responds to light, a stimulus (plural, stimuli), they move either toward or away from light. These guys move using flagellum (plural , flagella), which is a long whip-like structure.

In the center of the cell is the nucleus, which contains the cell's DNA and controls the cell's metabolism (cell activities). The interior of the cell contains cytoplasm, a jelly-like fluid substance. Toward the posterior of the cell is a star-like structure, the contractile vacuole. This organelle helps the cell remove excess water. Without it, the euglena could take in so much water via osmosis that the cell would burst.

The euglena reproduces asexually via longitudinal cell division (see below).
