Pourquoi lire les philosophes arabes Ali Benmakhlouf, 2020-09-02 The Crisis of Muslim Religious Discourse Lahouari Addi, 2021-12-30 Showing that Muslim societies are facing a crisis that is more cultural than religious this book focuses on cultural representations through which social life is experienced in the Muslim world It brings a new theoretical framework to address the secularization process that is underway and the contradictions it entails This volume will arouse a new debate on secularization and the relations between religion culture and philosophy The crisis Muslim societies are undergoing pertains to the culture and not to the Qur an to the extent that people do not have access to the sacred in itself but only for oneself meaning a cultural interpretation of the sacred The Qur an in itself is not an obstacle to secularization and modernization since any sacred text is experienced through culture If we consider the European experience where secularization has first emerged we see that culture has been transformed from medieval metaphysics to modern philosophy upholding a civic culture Discussing secularization through cultural representation this book launches new ideas that fill an important gap in the literature on secularization It is a key resource for any readers interested in religious studies philosophy and the anthropology of religion

understanding of what it means to be human Andalus and Sefarad Sarah Stroumsa, 2019-10-15 An integrative approach to Jewish and Muslim philosophy in al Andalus Al Andalus the Iberian territory ruled by Islam from the eighth to the fifteenth centuries was home to a flourishing philosophical culture among Muslims and the Jews who lived in their midst Andalusians spoke proudly of the region's excellence and indeed it engendered celebrated thinkers such as Maimonides and Averroes Sarah Stroumsa offers an integrative new approach to Jewish and Muslim philosophy in al Andalus where the cultural commonality of the Islamicate world allowed scholars from diverse religious backgrounds to engage in the same philosophical pursuits Stroumsa traces the development of philosophy in Muslim Iberia from its introduction to the region to the diverse forms it took over time from Aristotelianism and Neoplatonism to rational theology and mystical philosophy She sheds light on the way the politics of the day including the struggles with the Christians to the north of the peninsula and the Fimids in North Africa influenced philosophy in al Andalus yet affected its development among the two religious communities in different ways While acknowledging the dissimilar social status of Muslims and members of the religious minorities Andalus and Sefarad highlights the common ground that united philosophers providing new perspective on the development of philosophy in Islamic Spain The Mediterranean Question Iain Chambers, Marta Cariello, 2025-09-04 Whose Mediterranean are we talking about What languages are most appropriate to its reception and understanding With two thirds constituted by the histories and cultures of its African and Asian shorelines and hinterlands and its principal spoken language in all its variants and dialects being Arabic then the Mediterranean clearly exceeds the Western frame of explanation Without pretending to speak for or in the name of these ignored and repressed dimensions The Mediterranean Question explores the gap between the Mediterranean reduced to a European and Western mirror by listening and attending to some of those other histories cultures and lives How to puncture prevalent European understandings of the Mediterranean The colonizing impulse inscribed in Western historiography cannot be undone simply by adding previously repressed and unacknowledged histories Instead a re-examination of the premises and procedures that produced such exclusions leads to a valuable change in coordinates An order of knowledge that creates subaltern objects of study to reconfirm European centrality and subjectivity is interrogated Insisting on a politics of registration and listening further critical incentives drawn from the trans-local dissemination of literature music cinema and the visual arts can be deployed to query existing representations In this more ragged and open series of maps there lies no complete picture but rather a challenge to the violence of existing explanations Insisting that present-day knowledge is sustained in asymmetrical relations of power The Mediterranean Question promotes a reconfiguration of historical archives and cultural ties casting a critical light on the deeper histories that have made the Mediterranean Europe and Western modernity Proposing a series of intersecting analyses that underline the colonial constitution of the present and its mobile and creolized formation Chambers and Cariello seek to establish new coordinates for thinking and practicing the possibilities of another Mediterranean La
