Post Apocalyptic Story Case Studies:

Narrating the Mesh Marco Caracciolo, 2021-02-26 A hierarchical model of human societies relations with the natural world is at the root of today's climate crisis. Narrating the Mesh contends that narrative form is instrumental in countering this ideology. Drawing inspiration from Timothy Morton's concept of the mesh as a metaphor for the human/nonhuman relationship in the face of climate change, Marco Caracciolo investigates how narratives in genres such as the novel and the short story employ formal devices to effectively channel the entanglement of human communities and nonhuman phenomena. How can narrative undermine linearity in order to reject notions of unlimited technological progress and economic growth? What does it mean to say that nonhuman materials and processes from contaminated landscapes to natural evolution can become characters in stories? And conversely, how can narrative trace the rising awareness of climate change in the thick of human characters' mental activities? These are some of the questions Narrating the Mesh addresses by engaging with contemporary works by Ted Chiang, Emily St John Mandel, Richard Powers, Jeff VanderMeer, Jeanette Winterson and many others. Entering interdisciplinary debates on narrative and the Anthropocene, this book explores how stories can bridge the gap between scientific models of the climate and the human scale world of everyday experience, powerfully illustrating the complexity of the ecological crisis at multiple levels.

Apocalypse in Australian Fiction and Film Roslyn Weaver, 2014-01-10 Australia has been a frequent choice of location for narratives about the end of the world in science fiction and speculative works ranging from pre-colonial apocalyptic maps to key literary works from the last fifty years. This critical work explores the role of Australia in both apocalyptic literature and film. Works and genres covered include Nevil Shute's popular novel On the Beach, Mad Max children's literature, Indigenous writing and cyberpunk. The text examines ways in which apocalypse is used to undermine complacency, foretell environmental disasters, critique colonization and to serve as a means of protest for minority groups. Australian apocalypse imagines Australia at the ends of the world geographically and psychologically but also proposes spaces of hope for the future.

The Transformative Power of Literature and Narrative: Promoting Positive Change Corinna Assmann, Jan Rupp, Christine Schwanecke, 2023-01-16 Narrative plays a central role for individual and collective lives; this insight has arguably only grown at a time of multiple social and cultural challenges in the 21st century. The present volume aims to actualize and further substantiate the case for literature and narrative, taking inspiration from Vera Nünning's eminent scholarship over the past decades. Engaging with her formative interdisciplinary work, the volume seeks to explore potentials of change through the transformative power of literature and narrative to be harnessed by individuals and groups as agents of positive change in today's world. The book is located at the intersection of cognitive and cultural narratology and is concerned with the way literature affects individuals, how it works at an intersubjective level enabling communication and community and how it furthers social and cultural change.
