Case Study #1
 Green Lake is a beautiful, historically rich Washington lake where the green water and vegetation that borders it are so often beautiful to see. Sadly, more and more people are taking advantage of the water. Recently, thousands of people have been taking advantage of the water, taking thousands of gallons of water and leaving it on the shore. This is a problem for the lake and the people who live there. The lake is a beautiful place and it is important to keep it that way.
