NOTES ABOUT MARK SCHEME SYMBOLS & OTHER MATTERS

E marks	are independent marks, which do not depend on other marks. For a E mark to be scored, the point to which it refers must be seen specifically in the candidate's answer.
M marks	are method marks upon which accuracy marks (A marks) later depend. For an M mark to be scored, the point to which it refers must be seen in a candidate's answer. If a candidate fails to score a particular M mark, then none of the dependent A marks can be scored.
C marks	are compensatory marks in general applicable to numerical questions. These can be scored even if the point to which they refer are not written down by the candidate, provided subsequent working gives evidence that they must have known it. For example, if an equation carries a C mark and the candidate does not write down the actual equation but does correct substitution or working which shows the knew the equation, then the C mark is scored. A C mark is not awarded if a candidate makes two points which contradict each other. Points which are wrong but irrelevant are ignored.
A marks	A marks are accuracy or answer marks which either depend on an M mark, or which are part of the marks which allow a C mark to be scored. A marks are commonly awarded for final answers to numerical questions. If a final numerical answer, eligible for A marks, is correct, with the correct unit and an acceptable number of significant figures, all the marks for that question are normally awarded. It is very occasionally possible to award an A mark for an entirely wrong approach. In these rare circumstances, do not award the A marks, but award C marks on their merits. An A mark following an M mark is a dependent mark.
Brackets if 3	around words or units in the mark scheme are intended to indicate wording used to clarify the mark scheme, but the marks do not depend on seeing the words or units in brackets, e.g. 10 (J) means that the mark is scored for 10, regardless of the unit given.
Underlining	indicates that this must be seen in the answer offered, or something very similar.
OR	indicates alternative answers, any one of which is satisfactory for scoring the marks.
OR/AND	means "either/or" or "and".
OR/NOT	means "or words to that effect".
Spelling	the generous about spelling and uses of English. If an answer can be understood to mean what was meant, give credit. However, do not allow ambiguities, e.g. spelling which suggests confusion between reflection/refraction/refraction or transmission/transformation.
NOT/NOT	indicates that an incorrect answer is not to be disallowed, but cancel another otherwise correct alternative offered by the candidate i.e. right plus wrong penalty applies.
Ignore	indicates that something which is not correct or irrelevant is to be disallowed and does not cause a right plus wrong penalty.
etc	meaning "and carried forward" is mainly applicable to numerical questions, but may in particular circumstances be applied in non-numerical questions. This indicates that if a
