Forbes, 2020-10-09 This book gives an overview of modern cathodes and electron emitters for vacuum tubes and vacuum electron devices in general. It covers the latest developments in field emission theory as well as new methods towards improving thermionic and cold cathodes. It addresses thermionic cathodes such as oxide cathodes impregnated and scandate cathodes as well as photocathodes and field emitters the latter comprising carbon nanotubes, graphene and Spindt type emitter arrays. Despite the rise and fall of the once dominant types of vacuum tubes such as radio valves and cathode ray tubes, cathodes are continually being improved upon as new applications with increased demands arise for example in electron beam lithography, high power and high frequency microwave tubes, terahertz imaging and electron sources for accelerators. Written by 17 experts in the field, the book presents the latest developments in cathodes needed for these applications, discussing the state of the art and addressing future trends Flat Panel Display

Chastek, 2003-08-02 Software product lines are emerging as an important new paradigm for software development. Product lines are enabling organizations to achieve impressive time to market gains and cost reductions. In 1997 we at the Software Engineering Institute SEI launched a Product Line Practice

Initiative Our vision was that product line development would be a low risk high return proposition for the entire software engineering community It was our hope from the beginning that there would eventually be sufficient interest to hold a conference The First Software Product Line Conference SPLC1 was the realization of that hope Since SPLC1 we have seen a growing interest in software product lines Companies are launching their own software product line initiatives product line technical and business practices are maturing product line tool vendors are emerging and books on product lines are being published Motivated by the enthusiastic response to SPLC1 and the increasing number of software product lines and product line researchers and practitioners the SEI is proud to sponsor this second conference dedicated to software product lines We were gratified by the submissions to SPLC2 from all parts of the globe from government and commercial organizations From these submissions we were able to assemble a rich and varied conference program with unique opportunities for software product line novices experts and those in between This collection represents the papers selected from that response and includes research and experience reports
