SUBAREA I—CHILD DEVELOPMENT, LEARNING,

Competency 1: Foundations and principles of child development and learning

Major Theories of Child Development and Learning

Introduction

Understanding the major theories of child development and learning is crucial for Preschool teachers. These theories provide a framework for understanding how children grow, learn, and develop. They also inform early childhood education.

1. Jean Piaget's Theory of Cognitive Development

- Key Concepts: Piaget's theory divides cognitive development into four stages: Sensorimotor, Preoperational, Operational, and Formal Operational.
  - Sensorimotor Stage (birth-2 years): Children experience the world through their senses and motor actions. They learn about object permanence and that actions can cause reactions.
  - Preoperational Stage (2-7 years): Children begin to think symbolically about objects. They tend to be egocentric and struggle with understanding of cause and effect.
  - Concrete Operational Stage (7-11 years): Children start to think logically about objects. They understand the concept of conservation and can organize objects into hierarchical categories.
  - Formal Operational Stage (12 years and up): Abstract thinking starts to develop. Children can think logically about hypothetical situations.
