5G NR Modelling in MATLAB Tulsi Pawan Fowdur, Madhavsingh Indoonundon, Dragorad A. Milovanovic, Zoran S. Bojkovic, 2024-06-30 5G is the fifth generation of wireless technology and NR stands for a new radio interface and radio access technology for cellular networks i.e. a physical connection method for radio based communication. It is a powerful platform that supports a wide range of services that includes enhanced mobile broadband, massive machine type communication, and ultra-reliability and low latency covering several vertical industries such as e-health, transportation, energy, media, and factories automation. This book provides a detailed description of the fundamental aspects of 5G. It gives an in-depth coverage of the network architecture of 5G by considering both the network reference point architecture and the service-based architecture. It also describes all the user and control plane protocols including the standalone and non-standalone architecture options. The radio access technologies such as the waveforms used in 5G, the multi-access and duplexing techniques, as well as the resource allocation schemes, are treated in detail. Additionally, the physical layer signal processing blocks of 5G NR are covered in depth with elaborate numerical examples to illustrate the functioning of each block in the 5G downlink transmitter and receiver chain. The main originality of this book is the detailed illustration of the 5G NR pre-processing steps as well as Matlab simulation models with explanation on the codes to allow for a seamless understanding of the principles. In general, this book is meant for anyone with a basic engineering background who would be interested to acquire a solid foundation in the fundamental concepts of 5G NR. Computerworld, 2006-08-07 For more than 40 years Computerworld has been the leading source of technology news and information for IT influencers worldwide. Computerworld's award-winning Web site, Computerworld.com, twice monthly publication, focused conference series, and custom research form the hub of the world's largest global IT media network. CGAL Arrangements and Their Applications Efi Fogel, Dan Halperin, Ron Wein, 2012-01-05 Arrangements of curves constitute fundamental structures that have been intensively studied in computational geometry. Arrangements have numerous applications in a wide range of areas; examples include geographic information systems, robot motion planning, statistics, computer-assisted surgery, and molecular biology. Implementing robust algorithms for arrangements is a notoriously difficult task, and the CGAL arrangements package is the first robust, comprehensive, generic, and efficient implementation of data structures and algorithms for arrangements of curves. This book is about how to use CGAL two-dimensional arrangements to solve problems. The authors first demonstrate the features of the arrangement package and related packages using small example programs. They then describe applications, i.e. complete standalone programs written on top of CGAL arrangements, used to solve meaningful problems, for example, finding the minimum area triangle defined by a set of points, planning the motion of a polygon translating among polygons in the plane, computing the offset polygon, finding the largest common point sets under approximate congruence, constructing the farthest point Voronoi diagram, coordinating the motion of two discs moving among obstacles in the plane.

and performing Boolean operations on curved polygons The book contains comprehensive explanations of the solution programs many illustrations and detailed notes on further reading and it is supported by a website that contains downloadable software and exercises It will be suitable for graduate students and researchers involved in applied research in computational geometry and for professionals who require worked out solutions to real life geometric problems It is assumed that the reader is familiar with the C programming language and with the basics of the generic programming paradigm
