DISCUSSION GUIDE

WEEK 3: ACTS 2:42-47

"There is nothing more unchristian than a solitary Christian" – John Wesley

The first report of the early church in Acts 2:42 describes the four pillars of their activities and worship: devotion to teaching God's Word, fellowship, the breaking of bread, and prayer.

Two phrases in this passage may need explanation. Breaking of bread most likely refers to their regular meals, but at the close of each meal, they probably paused to remember the Lord by observing what we now call "the Lord's Supper." Bread and wine were common at a Jewish table. The word fellowship means much more than "being together." It means "having in common" and probably refers to the sharing of material goods that was practiced in the early church. This was certainly not a form of modern communism, for the program was totally voluntary, temporary (Acts 11:27-30), and motivated by love.
