Beyond open access: visions for open evaluation of scientific papers by post-publication peer review Nikolaus Kriegeskorte,Diana Deca, A scientific publication system needs to provide two basic services access and evaluation The traditional publication system restricts the access to papers by requiring payment and it restricts the evaluation of papers by relying on just 2-4 pre-publication peer reviews and by keeping the reviews secret. As a result the current system suffers from a lack of quality and transparency of the peer review evaluation process and the only immediately available indication of a new paper's quality is the prestige of the journal it appeared in. Open access is now widely accepted as desirable and is slowly beginning to become a reality. However the second essential element evaluation has received less attention. Open evaluation an ongoing post-publication process of transparent peer review and rating of papers promises to address the problems of the current system. However it is unclear how exactly such a system should be designed. The evaluation system steers the attention of the scientific community and thus the very course of science. For better or worse the most visible papers determine the direction of each field and guide funding and public policy decisions. Evaluation therefore is at the heart of the entire endeavor of science. As the number of scientific publications explodes evaluation and selection will only gain importance. A grand challenge of our time therefore is to design the future system by which we evaluate papers and decide which ones deserve broad attention. So far scientists have left the design of the evaluation process to journals and publishing companies. However the steering mechanism of science should be designed by scientists. The cognitive, computational and brain sciences are best prepared to take on this task which will involve social and psychological considerations, software design and modeling of the network of scientific papers and their interrelationships. This Research Topic in Frontiers in Computational Neuroscience collects visions for a future system of open evaluation. Because critical arguments about the current system abound these papers will focus on constructive ideas and comprehensive designs for open evaluation systems. Design decisions include: Should the reviews and ratings be entirely transparent or should some aspects be kept secret? Should other information such as paper downloads be included in the evaluation? How can scientific objectivity be strengthened and political motivations weakened in the future system? Should the system include signed and authenticated reviews and ratings? Should the evaluation be an ongoing process such that promising papers are more deeply evaluated? How can we bring science and statistics to the evaluation process e.g. should rating averages come with error bars? How should the evaluative information about each paper e.g. peer ratings be combined to prioritize the literature? Should different individuals and organizations be able to define their own evaluation formulae e.g. weighting ratings according to different criteria? How can we efficiently transition toward the future system? Ideally the future system will derive its authority from a scientific literature on community based open evaluation. We hope that these papers will provide a starting point.

Big History David Christian, Craig Benjamin, Cynthia Brown, 2013-08-02. Big History Between Nothing and Everything surveys the past not just of humanity or even of planet Earth but of the entire universe. In reading this book instructors and students will retrace a voyage that began 13.7 billion years ago with the Big Bang and the appearance of the universe. Big history incorporates findings from cosmology, earth and life sciences and human history and assembles them into a single universal historical narrative of our universe and of our place within it. The first edition of Big History Between Nothing and Everything is written by the pioneers of the field and presents a framework for learning about anything and everything It encourages students to think critically about our cumulative history and the future of the world through a variety of lenses

Enterprise and Industry Directorate-General, 2010 European competitiveness is at the centre of this annual publication of the European Commission. The 2010 edition of the European Competitiveness Report includes a review of the EU's overall competitiveness performance looking at the possible implications of the economic downturn for productivity followed by four in-depth analyses on a number of key developments that may have a significant impact on competitiveness the changing pattern of trade in intermediate products and EU manufacturing supply chains foreign corporate R European competitiveness in key enabling technologies and innovation and competitiveness of the creative industries in the EU Tacit and theoretical knowledge in skill development Anna Lena Bischoff, 2016-09-05 Seminar paper from the year 2016 in the subject Business economics General grade 1 0 Linnaeus University School of Economics course Skills and Technology language English abstract The course describes the topics of tacit knowledge the introduction to the area of Skill and Technology makes distinctions between rules and the following of rules between the abstract and the concrete and problems and dilemmas in society from the perspective of professional skill Teacher Emotions Matter: Nature, Antecedents, and Effects Junjun Chen, Hongbiao Yin, Anne Christiane Frenzel, 2021-01-05 Review of "Religious Beliefs, Gambling Attitudes and Financial Market Outcomes" Maximiliane Brecht, 2015-06-11 Seminar paper from the year 2014 in the subject Business economics Miscellaneous grade 1 0 University Heidelberg Alfred Weber Institut of Economics course Religion and Financial Behavior language English abstract As religious faith plays a crucial role in people's lives and largely influences their behavior as well as their decision making the study of religiosity has a long tradition in many social science disciplines Nevertheless this relationship became only a topic of interest in modern economic studies since the last quarter of the twentieth century when Ehrenberg and Azzi 1975 developed a utility maximizing model taking into account both lifetime and afterlife utility see for example Iannaccone 1998 Jackson and Fleischer 2007 In 2012 around 91% of the US American population professed to believe in God or a universal spirit Lugo 2012 suggesting that if religion does shape economic behavior it should also affect aggregate market outcome Hence studies investigate both micro and macroeconomic effects of religiosity 2 while some recent papers specifically address the relationship between religion and financial decisions risk aversion and speculative behavior in particular are believed to depend on religious adherence Not only have studies linked religiosity with a higher level of pure risk aversion in corporate decision making Hilary and Hui 2009 but also suggests current research that religious beliefs spill over in investment decisions due to different notions of gambling For instance Kumar 2009 found Catholics to be more willing to take on speculative risk by investing more in risky stocks than Protestants do This paper aims to critically review Kumar Page and Spalt 2011 and structures as follows firstly the theoretical framework of gambling in economics will be presented with a focus on cumulative prospect theory and its implications for asset pricing Then follows a comprehensive overview of the theoretical background and empirical findings of the paper with focus on the influence of religion on investors portfolio decisions and on overpricing of initial public offerings The subsequent section discusses the hypotheses of Kumar Page and Spalt 2011 Eventually the last section concludes with a summary of the main findings in a broader context and with an outlook on future research Bulletin of Books in the Various Departments of Literature and Science Added to the Public Library of Cincinnati During the Year... ,1883

Past Exam Paper S1science2009 Introduction: Bestsellers in 2023 The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous captivating novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of top-selling books, exploring the engaging narratives that have captivated audiences this year. The Must-Read : Colleen Hoovers "It Ends with Us" This poignant tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover skillfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can prevail. Past Exam Paper S1science2009 Introduction : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This spellbinding historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids captivating storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Discover the Magic : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This captivating coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens crafts a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These bestselling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of compelling stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a brilliant and gripping novel that will keep you guessing until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
