

Five Stages of mental health recovery

Recovery Happens.

Many people live in recovery from severe mental distress, leading happy and productive lives. So can you.

Your journey is unique, but these stages are often the path.

Stage 2 is a tipping point: claim your internal strength and choose to move forward with self-determination.

Engage Integrative Practitioners who do root-cause analysis. There is a large menu of evidence-based recovery options beyond drugs. Educate yourself.

Start small. One step at a time. Stay close to those who love and support you. Mistakes will be made - that's OK.

You can do this.

Nursing Knowledge and Practice E-Book Maggie Mallik, Carol Hall, David Howard, 2009-04-22 Nursing knowledge and practice is a comprehensive textbook which forms an ideal basis for foundation nursing students. The core emphasis in the organisation and presentation of knowledge in this third edition remains focused on the in depth knowledge required by nurses to deliver care in the practice setting. The chapter contents encompass knowledge that applies to all branches of nursing e.g. Communication, Confusion, Aggression and Rehabilitation, Safety and Risk, Infection Control, Medicines etc. The structure of all chapters is unique in integrating knowledge from subject areas often taught separately in the nursing curriculum. This enables the foundation student to integrate this range of knowledge in making decisions about the delivery of nursing care to patients/clients in all fields of nursing. Exercises are included to encourage reflection on practice and develop critical thinking skills. It also promotes the expansion of professional knowledge through the development of portfolio evidence. Building on the outstanding success of previous editions, the authors have drawn extensively on current best evidence including research, policy and substantial internet based resources reflecting UK and international perspectives. Each chapter begins with an overview of the content and concludes with a summary to help evaluate learning. Case studies reflect the diverse range of client needs and care settings of the four nursing branches and help relate theory to practice. Reflective exercises and suggestions for portfolio evidence along with decision making activities promote reflection on personal experience and links to nursing practice using a problem based approach. Current research is highlighted throughout demonstrating the evidence base for practice decisions. Key web sites annotated for further reading and references encourage readers to pursue contemporary evidence that underpins competency based practice. Full colour throughout. Content fully updated in line with developments in clinical practice, teaching requirements and the evidence base. Free electronic ancillaries on Evolve enhance the knowledge provided in each chapter with additional information, exercises and resources. An introductory chapter on Nursing Knowledge and Practice explores the role and context of nursing nationally and internationally, providing foundation information on core knowledge areas common to all nursing curricula.

Transforming Mental Health Services Howard H. Goldman, Jeffrey A. Buck, Kenneth S. Thompson, 2009-06-26 This compendium of 17 articles addresses the goals set forth by the President s New Freedom Commission on Mental Health in its 2003 report Achieving the Promise Transforming Mental Health Care in America The report represents the first time since the Carter Administration that such a high level group evaluated U S mental health care The report painted a dismal picture of the nation s mental health system saying the system was so broken that it was beyond simple repair The Commission said that current services focused on managing disabilities rather than helping patients achieve a meaningful life in their communities It also stated that mental health service providers ignored the preferences of consumers and their families The articles in Transforming Mental Health Services Implementing the Federal Agenda for Change originally published between 2006 and 2009 in Psychiatric Services journal of the American Psychiatric Association offer recommendations to assist adults with serious mental illness and children with serious emotional disturbances They include a series of reforms in which the emphasis is on recovery as an achievable goal and the need for a person centered orientation in service delivery There is also discussion of the reasons many service providers resist using a recovery orientation and how this can be remedied Transforming Mental Health Services Implementing the Federal Agenda for Change consists of updates of papers written by the Commission s subcommittees addressing issues fundamental to those living with mental illness It is organized into four sections The first focuses on the interface between mental health and general health and on employment housing and Medicaid financing The second continues addressing financing and Medicaid as well as issues related to school mental health recovery transformation of data systems and acceleration of research The third includes reports from four states with transformation initiatives designed to ensure that consumers have a strong voice in the development of recovery oriented services The final section describes progress five years after the President s Commission Report and concludes with a proposal by the current director of the Center for Mental Health Services for a public health model of mental health care for the 21st century This compilation of well researched and well written articles offers an excellent resource for frontline care providers facility administrators and advocates It serves as an equally valuable resource for state policy makers who wish to present a convincing case that change is happening and that the recommendations can be translated into effective policies Although consumers and their families will receive support for their perception that service providers ignore their needs they will also be encouraged that change for the better is coming to the U S mental health care system
