These documents and the associated data collected from previous data mining studies illustrate a range of potential applications. These findings can be integrated into existing E-commerce systems (e.g., Amazon.com's Product Recommendation System) to improve the customer experience. In addition, these data can be used to predict consumer behavior for other products, creating worth and revenue-generating opportunities. In the research these predictions can be used to develop better marketing and sales approaches. These improvements are resulting in better customer service, reduced costs, and increased sales. These findings will also enable better decision-making and understanding of consumers. These findings will also enable companies to better serve their customers.

For more information about the study, please contact the study team at www.sph.uth.tmc.edu/epic.

amount of advertising. Despite the losses, the Board is requesting permission to maintain its interest in gold the advertising of the Golden Leaf, because of its continuing value to the company and its shareholders. Since the Golden Leaf is a well-known cigarette, the Board feels that it is important to the company to maintain its present position in the market place. The Board also feels that the present position of the company is not a good one, and that the new position is a better one. The Board feels that the new position will be better for the company, and that the new position will be better for the shareholders.
